District Health Department Issues Polio Information

We are approaching another polio season and the health department would like to offer such information as is available to parents in the area. Again we would like to make some effort to reassure parents that, while polio is an extremely serious disease, your child's chances of getting polio are rather remote and only a very small percent of children who do contract polio have any residual or permanent crippling.

The polio vaccine which has been discussed so thoroughly in the news for the past several months is not available for use in this area or most areas in the United States. It is strictly in an experimental stage and will not be made available to all health departments until such time as the original research has been completed. Its effectiveness will only be known after the present studies have been completed.

We would like to take this opportunity to again repeat the usual precautions which you can take and which are valuable.

1. Keep children with their usual companions; don't take them in crowds.
2. Avoid fatigue and chilling. This means adults, too.
3. Inasmuch as it has been suggested that nose and throat operations during polio seasons may have a tendency to increase chances of children's getting polio, you should follow your doctor's advice about these proceedings.
4. Teach children to wash hands carefully before eating and after going to the toilet. Don't use another's soiled towels, dishes or tableware.
5. Tell your doctor if these symptoms appear: Headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back. Put sick person to bed promptly.
6. Remember that at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.

River Clean Up Postponed Week

Due to water temperatures in the low fifties, high water which wasn't too clear, the AuSable River clean-up scheduled last Saturday was postponed to this Sunday. The clean-up is slated from Grayling to Burton's Landing with the Grayling Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts doing the work with supervision of adults.

They will need at least 25 canoes or boats which should be delivered at the US-27 bridge before 9:00 A. M. We certainly hope the local people will co-operate in donating this equipment. The Sportsmen's club is sponsoring this project but are asking for donations to finance it. No donations are to small. If you donate $1.00 that will take 50 cans or bottles from the river. The same $1.00 will take 20 old tires from the river.

We have a thing of beauty in the AuSable River which has been given publicity in the leading magazines of the country and is recognized as one of the best trout fishing rivers in the world. A little effort and money will help to clean it up and make it a river to be proud of.

We need a few men who will go down river with the boys to watch out for them, we also need men at the check stations to count the loads of cans, bottles, tires, etc., which the Boy Scouts will take from the river.

Let's get behind this project and give it our support in time and money. When we get one portion of the river cleaned up we will start on another. It is the hope of those sponsoring this project to clean up trash from the river down as far as McManis Bridge. Donations may be turned over to the following: Eric Post, Bud Hunter, Wm. Hines or Jerome Kessler.

Review Plans For Camp Completion

Top Washington Guard, Defense Officials Inspect Camp Grayling

An eight man team of high officers of the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D. C., members of the Defense Department and Bureau of the budget flew into Grayling Tuesday to carry out an inspection of Camp Grayling. The group also inspected plans for a new armory in Detroit for the 425th Infantry Regiment, 46th Division, Michigan National Guard.

The Washington group was headed by Major General William H. Abendorth, chief of the army division, National Guard Bureau. Others in the group were: Major General Robert Moore, Office of the Secretary of Defense; A. H. Elliot of the same office; Col. Harold Young, National Guard Bureau; Col. Charles F. Stier, controller of the National Guard Bureau; Col. Benjamin R. Wimer, G-4, U. S. Army; James Toole, National Budget Bureau; Major General G. L. Lawton, controller, Dept. of the Army.

Herbert Layle, Quarter Master General of Michigan and Lt. Colonel Ronald D. MacDonald, Divisional G-3 of the Michigan National Guard.

The group arrived about 10:30 Tuesday morning and spent until 3 p. m. visiting the sprawling Crawford County military installation and its wide flung firing ranges.

The group discussed the long-range plans for the future development and completion of the Mid-West's largest and best National Guard training site. The use of federal funds granted to the Michigan National Guard since World War II came in for a very close inspection by tactical experts and military construction experts.

To Clean Flags Free

Drycleaners of Grayling were asked today to join in a nationwide drive in which all American flags would be cleaned without charge in return for the owners promise to display the colors on Flag Day, June 14th.

The appeal was made by Lyle Bilsby (Post Commander), Grayling Post No. 106 on behalf of A. O. Thalacker, President of the Detrox Corporation of Detroit Mich., a leading manufacturer of drycleaning equipment.

"Along with Mr. Thalacker, I feel confident that the drycleaners of America will respond to this appeal," Commander Bilsby said. "I think the time is especially fitting that more flags than ever before be displayed on this Flag Day and on the holidays that follow, too."

"But let's make sure we show our true colors — a bright and sparkling red, white and blue."

St. Mary's School Closes Successful Year

Friday marked the closing of St. Mary's School for the summer vacation and the second year since it was first established in Grayling. Another successful year was completed with 135 children in seven grades.

Next year the eighth grade will be added to the curriculum and an enrollment of 160 in the eighth grades is anticipated when school re-opens in September.

Report cards were handed out Friday and awards were given to 11 children who had perfect attendance records.

It is felt that the Sisters of St. Joseph have done a marvelous job and have accomplished wonderful results. In turn, on the whole, the cooperation of parents has been excellent.

The Sisters will be leaving soon for Nazareth Convent, Nazareth, Mich., for the summer months.

O. E. S. No. 83 Honors Mrs. Laura Olson

At a regular meeting of Grayling Chapter, O. E. S. No. 83, Mrs. Laura Olson was given her life membership certificate. Through an honor guard of Past Worthies she was escorted to the East by Worthies Matron Ida Pependick, where the life membership certificate was presented.

A beautiful bouquet, a gift from the Past Worthies—Matrons, was presented by Mrs. Clara Sales. Mrs. June Taylor sang "Auld Lang Syne." Later in the dining room lunch was served by Jack McMillan, Lewis Martin, Jess Sales and Uharley Russell. Mrs. Roberta Wright gave the following tribute, her own composition, to Mrs. Olson.

To Laura Olson, upon receiving her O. E. S. life membership, June 2, 1954.

This world of ours is full of chores and tasks that must be done.

Some we face with real distaste, while some, we know, are fun.

Among the tasks that we enjoy, and which we here attend,

Is the pleasure that we all receive bestowing honors on a friend.

The honor earned by work well done, and service through long years

How can we tell our Sister then, and have her understand

How proud we feel—how privileged we are to have a hand

In honoring her who well deserves our honor and our praise? Her devotion to our Eastern Star took form in many ways.

She took her turn in office; was Matron in the East;

The charm and grace she lent our work, it's beauty much increased.

So as you pass this mile-stone, the Chapter honors you.

Our hats are off — our voices loud—our wishes warm and true!

Mrs. William Strope of Detroit arrived Friday to spend the summer at her cottage. Her grand daughter, Mrs. Edwin LeBatt and her sons, Jeffrey and Michael of Oshkosh arrived Sunday to spend the week with her.

Mrs. Holzer Schmidt has returned from Detroit where she went to see her new grandson. He was born on June 2 to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Schmidt and has been named Robert Howard. He weighed 11 pounds.

Investigate Series Of Break Ins

A series of breaking and enterings are under investigation by the State Police Posts at Houghton Lake and Gaylord and by Sheriff John A. Papendick of Crawford County and Sheriffs in Ogemaw, Roscommon and Otsego Counties.

The first reported breaking and enterings were four cabins located on M-72 about four miles east of Grayling on May 27. On May 28, Vince's Shell Service Station was entered in Grayling with about $120 taken while another cabin was pilfered in Lovells. On May 31, Melroy's Service Station in Frederic was broken into and a small amount of money taken.

On June 6 the Big Wheel Service station on US-27 south of Grayling and Melroy's in Frederic were broken into as well as gas stations in West Branch, Gaylord and Elmira. Fishing tackle, other sporting equipment, small amounts of money were taken in each case. However the West Branch station lost over $400.00.

It is the belief of the investigating officers that the same man or group are responsible for the break-ins. They pointed to the continuity of the route of robberies, the time factor and the things stolen.

"Tall Timber Pete"
Publishes Second Book

When E. J. (Peter) Petersen, veteran lumber-looker of Michigan's northwoods, retired some years ago, he found life too full of interest to think of quitting. And so he drew upon his great store of pencil notes of stories and legends of the state's lumberwoods to embark on a new career—as a writer. The results are familiar to thousands of readers who came to know Pete's weekly column, "Tall Timber Tales," which appeared for some years in more than one hundred of the state's daily and weekly newspapers, including the Avalanche.

Two years ago, "Pete" published a book, a historical novel of the Michigan lumberwoods, under the title, "North of Saginaw Bay." The book, which drew favorable comments and a good sale all over the state, is now in its third edition.
And this week, Petersen published a second book, a sequel to the first, under the title, "The White Squaw."

The legend of the White Squaw is one well-circulated in the lore of the lumber camps, and in this new book Petersen carries his story to the western part of the state, to Kalkaska, and Antrim, and Logan's Landing on the Manistee. It is a thrilling yarn of how young Clay Woods and Peter Mike Logan finally best the unscrupulous gang that had made the Struthers Case one of the most notorious of Michigan's lumberland swindles. But all was not cogs and rubbers, even in the early 1890's in the tall pine country, and no duane finds its way also in Petersen's saga of "THE WHITE SQUAW."

Happenings That Affect the Future...

"The character of man still forms the essential core of a lasting civilization." With that phrase Charles A. Lindbergh closed a striking address, delivered at The Institute of the Aeronautical Sciences-Honors Night dinner, after he had been given a Daniel Guggenheim medal for his achievements in aviation.

The theme of his talk is found in another phrase—"We have measured success by our products rather than by ourselves." In other words, he dealt with the materialism of the times, and the unprecedented tensions, conflicts, worries and uncertainties that have become a world-wide plague.

Near the beginning General Lindbergh described the hopes that were held when flying was young. It was believed that the airplane would be a major instrument in bringing the peoples of the world closer together—closer not only in terms of time and space but in terms of understanding. Nothing could have been more tragically wrong. As he said, "We are confronted with the stark fact that the historical significance of aircraft has been primarily military and destructive. With hindsight, we see that our early enthusiasm over the discoveries of science and the conquest of the air blinded us to natural laws which govern the conduct of men. All our scientific progress has not changed the fact that God made life on earth prolific, competitive, selective. From wood-wheeled cart to turbine airplane, men have always used their inventions to advance their beliefs, trade and sovereignty—alternating their support, according to their purpose, between forces which unite and forces which divide."

All of us know the present-day fruits of that truth. Its most evident manifestation is the world's war machines, with their incredible demands upon human and material resources. As General Lindbergh put it, "In a competitive world, life and freedom must be backed by strength."

TAKE heart, good friend—you can buy a bit-of-the-year Buick if you can afford any new car.

And we proudly show our price here to prove it.

For this price is the delivered price—the local delivered price—of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan—and it's just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three"—lower, in fact, than even some models of those very same cars.

But look what this Buick price gets you!

It gets you the very look of tomorrow in styling modernity, even to the spectacular new panoramic windshield that seems to outdate everything before it.

It gets you Buick V8 power—highest in SPECIAL history—plus the economy of new Power-Head Pistons.

It gets you Buick room, Buick luxury, Buick size and structure and solidity—including of course, the famed Million Dollar Ride and a new precision in handling ease.

It gets you, too, solid and deep-down value.

For any way you look at it, you're money ahead with the car that's years-ahead now in looks and line and the lift of its power—and the car that's outselling every other car in America except two of the "low-price three."

Drop in today or the first thing tomorrow—just to try and to drive and to compare a new Buick. We'll let the car prove its points.

The four children of U.S. Attorney General and Mrs. Herbert Brownell, Jr., at lunch together. Left to right: Jim, 9; Ann, 14; Joan, 16; and Tom, 12. Below, their mother tells how her friendly guidance helped Joan with dating problems.

Speaking of Families

By RETH JUDDSON

"They're a nice family—a very nice family," the maid volunteered as she flicked her dust rag over the furniture.

The "very nice family" was that of the Attorney General of the United States, Herbert Brownell, Jr. Children in the family number four.

"The last thing I could do," Mrs. Brownell said when she came into the room, "is set myself up as a mother who has any answers. We just coast along and sort of let Nature take its course."

She sounds casual. She is casual. But—with a purpose. Doris Brownell believes you can keep kids on the track much easier if you guide them along in a friendly, understanding way. It's when you block them with a battery of "no's" that they're tempted to jump the track!

Take the problem of the dating teen-age daughter, for instance. "Joan was 18 when her first beau came around," Mrs. Brownell said. "She seemed so young to be starting, yet we didn't stop her. When boys and girls are old enough to want to go out together, it seems natural that they should. If we try to obstruct this normal urge, we can be pretty sure they'll find some way to get around it—and we won't know about it!"

Once when Joan was dating a boy her parents didn't approve of (for what they considered good reasons), there were no ultimatums. No "you stop seeing that boy or else . . ." sort of thing.

Instead, Mrs. Brownell frankly, but in a friendly way, told her daughter how they felt about the boy. Then they let the matter drop. Before long, Joan of her own accord announced, "I'm not seeing Ted any more."

That's the way it usually goes with the Brownells. The dating problems of both Joan, 16, and Anne, 14, usually work themselves out in the natural course of events. As a result, their happy family life isn't plagued with unpleasant scenes, smoldering resentments, or outright rebellion.

Observed Doris Brownell . . . "Dating teen-agers are so much easier to handle if we can guide their activities in a friendly, understanding way."

Here's why you are better off with Blue Cross-Blue Shield...

the most successful idea ever devised to protect your family against hospital and medical bills!

Chances are one in three that someone in your family will have to go to the hospital this year.

When that happens, you'll need hospital services such as bed, board, operating room, laboratory tests and others. But you can't tell now how many services you'll need . . . or how much they'll cost!

And that's the beauty of Blue Cross. Because Blue Cross covers you with hospital services themselves . . . not limited cash payments that may not cover half the services you need!

This hospital service feature is what makes Blue Cross the most successful idea ever devised to protect against hospital bills.

Hospital service protection . . .
the Blue Cross way

When you become a member of a Blue Cross Group it is like becoming the "owner" of a wide range of hospital services in advance of need.

Then, when you need hospital services—such as bed and board, essentials like oxygen, drugs and medicines, operating room and others—these services are automatically yours at any Blue Cross participating hospital. There are more than 200 such hospitals in Michigan alone—with 99% of the general hospital beds in the state. And every enrolled member in your family is protected equally.

Over 3,000,000 Michigan people have Blue Cross. Chances are, your neighbor has it. Talk it over with him—and see if he doesn't agree that there is no finer protection at any price.

Doctor bill protection . . .
the Blue Shield way

If you have a hospital bill, you are almost sure to have a doctor bill, too . . . aren't you? Ask your doctor in advance what his charge will be. Almost always he can tell you. Even then, protection against doctor bills is important . . . and here is where Blue Shield comes in, with two basic plans.

One plan pays a generous specific amount directly to your doctor for surgical treatment in the hospital. Benefits cover thousands of surgical procedures, including maternity care. The second plan adds to this surgical coverage . . . by paying liberal amounts for your doctor's visits to you in the hospital for non-surgical treatment. Often, under both of these plans, the doctor's whole bill is covered.

The cost is low

For only pennies a day, Blue Cross - Blue Shield provide the finest protection against hospital and medical bills obtainable in Michigan. To keep cost low, Blue Cross - Blue Shield do not pay for purely diagnostic procedures, including physical exams . . . or for procedures which can be handled properly in a doctor's office. You can help keep cost low by using Blue Cross - Blue Shield only when necessary.

There is no red tape

You don't need a health statement to join Blue Cross - Blue Shield. And, when you use your protection, there are no claims to file . . . no long waits for payment. Blue Cross - Blue Shield pay your hospital and doctor directly.

How to get Blue Cross - Blue Shield

Ask your employer or union representative how you can get low-cost Group Enrollment. A company with as few as 5 employees may qualify as a group. Check your Farm Bureau or Grange. Write or phone your nearest Blue Cross - Blue Shield office.

MUSKIES FOR MICHIGAN

The Michigan Conservation Department's announcement concerning the hatching of some 250,000 muskie eggs at the Drayton Plains hatchery may be the beginning of an important new fishing activity in our inland lakes. Somewhere in the future a good sampling of our northern lakes may rival Wisconsin in the chase for this hard-fighting game fish now found in only a few of our inland waters.

There is good reason to believe that a number of Michigan's upper peninsula lakes may be perfectly suited to food and habitat requirements for the muskellunge, although their introduction may result in some hardship for other fish now frequenting those lakes! Muskies have a terrific appetite for smaller fish.

Common to Lake St. Clair

Lake St. Clair and the Detroit River have long been considered among the nation's best muskellunge waters—and annually hundreds of these big "fresh water tigers" have been battled and beaten within a stone's throw of the motor capital city of Detroit. A certain school of anglers in southern Michigan specialize in muskie fishing, trolling day after day in spots known to be a favorite hangout for the fish. Lures are usually in-posing displays of hardware that twist, turn, glitter and shine in a manner they hope will be irresistible to the following muskie—and follow they do, sometimes for a hundred yards or more before deciding to take it or leave it!

Inland Angling Different

Tempting these fish in inland waters offers better sport, however, in that light-weight casting rods with smaller lures are commonly used. Casting toward cover along a shoreline will produce strikes so vicious that anglers are better off sitting securely in the boat rather than standing. Once hooked, the inland lake muskie is liable to put on a show of aerial acrobatics that makes you forget he's first cousin to the northern pike. The hard-boned, sabre-tooth lined jaws don't hold the barb too well, so those stories about "the big one that got away" feature muskies more often than almost any other fish!

Artificial Rearing Difficult

Michigan anticipates a tough job raising muskies for planting. Out of a million fry, survival of 200 fish to maturity can be expected! A strong tendency toward cannibalism takes care of the rest. But the job is started, and some day the mighty muskellunge may make the headlines as another sports attraction in Michigan Outdoors!

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Wise Stepmother

Have you heard about young Skeeter Roberts' unusual pet, the tame owl "Blinky"? He's had her about three years.

I say "her" because up to a couple of weeks ago nobody was quite sure. But now "Blinky's" a mother—of two chicks!

Seems "Blinky" had been acting kind of strange—so on a hunch, Skeeter put a couple of hen's eggs in her nest. Oarn if "Blinky" didn't set on them for 5 days! Last Friday they hatched, and now "Blinky's" as proud as a mother hen! (So's Skeeter.)

From where I sit, there's a lesson for all of us. Guess you'd call it "tolerance." Birds and animals often seem to do better in that respect than humans. If I like a glass of temperate beer with supper and you'd rather have cider—it should be okay with both of us. Neither of us should give a "hoot" what the other fellow likes, says, or does, as long as he follows the law of the land. Right?

Letters To The Editor

May 30, 1954

Mr. Robert Strong,
Crawford Avalanche,
Grayling, Michigan.
Dear Bob:

One of the most difficult jobs, continually facing the Michigan Department of Conservation is that of getting all of the facts relating to local Conservation projects over to the people.

Several months ago the Grayling Sportsmen's Club investigated the advisability of removing the dam on the AuSable River at Highway No. 27. This investigation was approved by the Sportsmen's Club, and later approved by the City Council. The fish division of the Department of Conservation was then asked to make a survey of the stream above as well as below the dam, and make their recommendations after the survey was completed. Since that time the property owners along the river, who would be affected by removal of the dam, have rightly expressed concern over the effects it would have on their properties.

Some of the anticipated results of this project have been wildly exaggerated. This is a natural reaction to projects of this nature.

Now, Bob, you know the importance of having local people interested in their Department of Conservation. They are entitled to the facts and should have them. Because of the present feeling I would like a meeting of the property owners involved, with the fish division of the Department of Conservation so that they can get a clear understanding of what would result if the dam were removed.

Since this was not a plan advanced by the Fish Division, the decision would not be made by, nor influenced by, that body. The decision to leave, or to remove, the dam on the AuSable at Highway No. 27 is a decision for the people of Grayling to make. I am sure that with all the facts they will make an intelligent decision.

Very truly yours,
George A. Griffith.

June 1, 1954.
Grayling Avalanche,

Those responsible for the G. H. S. Alumni affair this past Saturday are to be commended. "A big job well done." I am happy to have been able to attend and shall look forward to next year.

Showers Feted Bride - To - Be

The ladies' group of the Calvary Baptist Church feted Miss Sandy Strong with a miscellaneous bridal shower at the home of Mrs. Ted McEvers on Friday evening. Assisting the hostesses were Mrs. Roy McEvers and Mrs. Robert Niederer.

Contests in keeping with the bridal theme were played and enjoyed by all.

Dainty refreshments were served including little cakes prettily decorated. A bouquet of yellow and white mums centered the serving table. Miss Diana McDonald of Okemos, Sandy's maid-of-honor, poured and also assisted her in opening her many lovely and useful gifts.

On Tuesday, June 1st, a number of Sandy's girl friends feted her with a dinner at Clancy's and presented her with a lovely gift.

Mrs. Walter F. Truettner and Mrs. Willard Cornell were co-hostesses at a kitchen and pantry shower honoring Sandy at the Truettner home on Monday evening. Assisting her in opening her many lovely gifts were her bridesmaids, the Misses Rita and Nancy Sorenson, Holly Piper and her friend, Miss Denise Sorenson.

Dessert and coffee were served and little candies in white and pastel colors, some inscribed with "Sandy", some in the shape of wedding bells and some topped with little bows. Napkins in the wedding motif were also inscribed with the name of the bride-to-be. Mrs. J. E. Strong and Mrs. Robert Strong presided at the serving table which was centered with a lovely bouquet of white double lilacs.

Baptist Team Leads Softball League

Action in the newly organized church softball league produced two close games. The Free Methodist team beat the Methodist team on Wednesday only to lose to the Baptist entry on Friday. The Catholic-Methodist game scheduled for Thursday was called because of wet grounds.

Schofield won his third game for the Free Methodists allowing only five hits although he walked 12. Barnett, the loser for the Methodists, allowed only five hits but lacked support in the field. Schofield led his team at bat, also, getting two for three. Jorgenson and Kuyvenot each got two hits for the Methodists.

Friday's game was highly contested and liberally sprinkled with runarounds. The Baptist team racked up 12 runs in the first three innings and coasted in to a 12-8 win. Art Allen was the winner, allowing eight hits. The Baptists collected only five hits off the combined efforts of Rev. Don Cleveland and Schofield but capitalized on four Free Methodist errors. Losing pitcher was Cleveland. Ron Kellogg of the Baptists had two hits along with George Lowe and Don Campbell of the Free Methodists. Bill Schmeider hit a home run.

The Methodists and Baptists will play on Thursday of this week with the Catholics and Free Methodists scheduled for Friday.

THE TEST: New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco was tested against 16 premium-priced gasolines at Indianapolis Track. Each day, 16 cars were fueled with $3 worth of gas and driven around the track 'til tanks ran dry. Miles each car went were accurately recorded. The fleet of cars was run on New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco and on all 16 premium-priced gasolines.

THE RESULTS: New Hi-Test Blue Sunoco—at regular gas price—beat them all! It gave up to 14.9% more miles per dollar (average: 10.4%) than premium-priced brands tested.
